02. OKA Fitout — Property Images

Images from OKA Bar & Bistro — the previous tenant whose fitout is in situ. All 4 images confirm a premium multi-level café-bar build that is directly compatible with The Kind's format requirements.

Double-height indoor café — woven chandelier, coffee bar counter, mezzanine level, lush greenery

Outdoor courtyard — Corinthian-column veranda, rattan seating, stone floor, tropical plants, ambient fan

Rooftop al fresco — projection screen, woven pendant lights, open-sky glass roof, tropical plant wall

Upper terrace — tropical garden, high-stool seating, black-and-white tile floor, abundant shade

FITOUT ASSESSMENT: OKA built one of Jubilee Hills' most distinctive multi-level hospitality spaces. The indoor format (double height, mezzanine, café counter) is The Kind's ground-floor café. The outdoor courtyard (al fresco, Corinthian columns) is the signature patio. The rooftop (projection screen, open sky) is an events and private dining floor. The tropical terrace adds a fourth seating zone. Estimated existing fitout value: ₹2–4 Crore. Verify what is still intact before proceeding.

03. Road No. 59, Jubilee Hills — Location Context

Road No. 59 is an established premium residential and dining lane within Jubilee Hills, inside the core JH grid. Chutney's adjacency is the defining feature — one of Hyderabad's most-visited all-day restaurants (4.1★ JD, 18,456 ratings, 7AM–11PM, ₹750–1,000 for two). Chutney's drives continuous family footfall from breakfast through dinner, and a premium café next door captures the pre/post-meal occasion and the dessert + coffee crowd.

Catchment and nearby context

- Chutney's Jubilee Hills — immediately adjacent — 4.1★ JD (18,456 ratings), 7AM–11PM, all-day South Indian, consistently packed. One of Hyderabad's highest-footfall family restaurants. The Kind captures the before/after crowd.
- Jubilee Hills residential core — SEC A+ residents within walking distance. Old-money Jubilee Hills families, senior professionals, film industry professionals — all within a few minutes drive.
- Road No. 36 is ~500m–1km away — the primary Jubilee Hills commercial artery with Starbucks, Barbeque Nation, Croma. This property benefits from spillover without competing directly on Road 36 rents.
- Road No. 59 is a quieter lane — which for a café/bistro format means neighbourhood regulars and destination visitors, not random walk-in traffic. This suits The Kind's format.
- No direct specialty all-veg roastery confirmed on Road 59 — The Kind would be the first of its kind here.
- Valet parking is arranged — critical for a 6,000 sqft G+2 destination format. Eliminates parking as a barrier.

04. The OKA Precedent — What It Tells Us

Factor	What It Means for The Kind
OKA had 4.2★ on Zomato (1,433 ratings)	The audience for a premium all-day café-bar is proven on this road. Food quality and experience were validated before closure.
OKA closed — why?	OKA served alcohol and non-veg. The Kind's all-veg, no-alcohol specialty café is a fundamentally different format with lower regulatory risk and different consumer base. The reasons for OKA's closure are unlikely to affect The Kind.
₹2,000 for two AOV	The audience here pays premium. The Kind's pricing (₹400–800 for two for coffee + bites) is actually more accessible than OKA. Lower price point = higher volume potential.
200–300 person capacity	The 3-level layout supports The Kind's indoor café + al fresco + rooftop events format. Cover count is significantly higher than a single-floor outlet.
Live music and bar were operational	The rooftop projection screen and indoor stage/bar setup can be repurposed. Rooftop = exclusive cupping sessions, private events, café-style screenings. High premium ticket events.
Chutney's adjacency survived OKA's closure	The footfall driver (Chutney's) remains active. The opportunity for The Kind to capture that audience is intact and untapped.

05. Lokazen Intelligence Score

Dimension	Commentary	Score
Location — Road 59, JH	Established premium lane within Jubilee Hills core. Residential-commercial mix. Not a high-street, but a destination address.	7/10
Chutney's Adjacency	18,456 JD ratings, 7AM–11PM, one of Hyderabad's highest footfall family restaurants. Pre/post-meal café occasion = direct capture.	9/10
Existing Fitout Quality	Double-height indoor, outdoor courtyard, rooftop al fresco, tropical terrace — ₹2–4Cr estimated fitout value. Directly compatible with The Kind's format.	10/10
Size Fit vs Brief	6,000 sqft G+2 — at the upper end of The Kind's brief. 3-level layout is efficient. Not oversized for the format.	8/10
Rent vs Budget	₹12L/month = ₹200/sqft. Above The Kind's ₹6–8L stated budget. Road 36/37 benchmark is ₹100–200/sqft. At market for Jubilee Hills.	5/10
Deposit Burden	6 months deposit = ₹72 lakhs upfront. Significant capital commitment. Must factor into ROI.	5/10
Specialty Coffee Whitespace	No all-veg specialty roastery on Road 59. OKA was bar-focused. The Kind is differentiated format.	9/10
Parking	Valet arranged — strong for a destination format. Eliminates barrier.	8/10
Format & Fitout Alignment	4 distinct seating zones match The Kind's indoor + al fresco + events model. Projection screen for cupping events. Coffee bar counter in situ.	10/10

LOKAZEN COMPOSITE SCORE 80 / 100 — STRONG RECOMMEND

80/100. This is the strongest fitout opportunity in The Kind's Hyderabad pipeline. OKA's shuttered space is The Kind's blank canvas — except it's not blank. The fitout is built, the zoning is established, the footfall anchor (Chutney's) is immediately adjacent, and the multi-level format maps directly onto The Kind's indoor-outdoor-rooftop vision. The rent (₹12L) and deposit (₹72L) are the two live flags. If The Kind can negotiate rent to ₹9–10L and secure a fitout contribution or reduced deposit for the first year, this becomes the flagship.

06. Action Points — Before Any HOT

NON-NEGOTIABLE 1 — Full fitout audit before anything else

Walk the space with a contractor. What does OKA's fitout include? Bar counter — is the coffee bar counter usable? Chandelier installation — intact? Al fresco/courtyard — furniture and structure? Rooftop — projection screen, seating, glass roof structure? Tropical terrace — planting alive? Electrical load — sufficient for roasters + HVAC? Every element that remains is capital saved. Every element missing is capex.

NON-NEGOTIABLE 2 — Negotiate rent to ₹9–10L

₹12L is the ask. Road 59 is not Road 36. Negotiate hard: (a) previous tenant closed = landlord has been earning nothing, (b) 6-month deposit = ₹72L upfront already committed, (c) The Kind brings a premium brand that improves the property's future leasing value. Target ₹9L firm, settle at ₹10L maximum.

NON-NEGOTIABLE 3 — Negotiate deposit down from 6 months

₹72L in deposit for a permanently closed space is aggressive. Counter-propose 3 months (₹36L) with a 3-month escalation clause. Or propose 4 months + 1 month free lock-in rent. The landlord needs a tenant urgently.

MUST CONFIRM — Liquor licence and existing approvals

OKA operated with a bar and live music. Confirm: (a) is the liquor licence transferable or attachable to this property? (b) what zoning/trade licences are in place? The Kind is all-veg and no-alcohol, so the liquor licence can be surrendered — but confirm it doesn't create complications.

MUST CONFIRM — Why did OKA close?

4.2★ with 1,433 reviews is not a failure. Did OKA close due to rent dispute, ownership issues, operational problems, or landlord conflict? The reason directly affects The Kind's risk profile at this address. Speak to former staff or industry contacts.

OPPORTUNITY — Rooftop events and specialty programming

The rooftop with projection screen + open-sky structure is a premium event space. The Kind can programme: (a) specialty cupping sessions at ₹800–1,500/head, (b) café cinema nights, (c) brand collab dinners, (d) coffee tasting masterclasses. This is a revenue stream no single-floor outlet can access.

07. Pipeline Comparison — Where OKA Stands
